

Pretty Summer Weddings

KEARL — HOLMES

The Stake House, on July 7th was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Marilyn, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Holmes, became the bride of Harold E. Kearl, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kearl of Cardston.

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride was lovely in traditional gown of heavy white satin with full net skirt and shoulder length veil and bouquet of red and white roses. Bridesmaids were the Misses Kathleen and Alice Holmes, sisters of the bride in pale green, frosted nylon gowns, while Carolyn Holmes, small cousin of the bride, in long gown of yellow frosted nylon made a very pretty flower girl. Mr. Ted Kearl supported his brother, President J. H. Walker performed the ceremony in the presence of a large group of friends and relatives. Later, parents of the bride and groom received with the bridal party.

The many beautiful gifts were on display in the Relief Society room with Mrs. Verland Leavitt in charge of the guest book.

Ushers were Messrs. Ira McBride and Cyril Layne. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Ellen Winkler, aunt of the bride.

Mr. Bill Nalder acted as Master of ceremonies for the program which followed. The Misses Jean Kearl and Marilyn Holmes favored with a vocal duet; Miss Katherine Allen with two piano solos and Miss Kathleen Holmes two vocal solos.

Later the bride changed to a turquoise suit with white accessories and left by car for a honeymoon in Waterton, Glacier and San Francisco returning by Salt Lake where they will attend the Centennial.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Kearl, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kearl, Miss Arminio Kearl, Miss June Kearl, Miss Marilyn Hinman, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Kearl and daughter Marie from Calgary. A wedding of interest took place Thursday, July 3rd in the Alberta Temple, when President E. J. Wood united in marriage Elaine Annie, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Christensen of Magrath and Harold Reed Card, second son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Card of Raymond, in the presence of about twenty friends and relatives.

The bride was beautifully attired in a gown of white satin slightly en-train with leg-o-mutton sleeves ending in a point and a sweetheart neckline. She wore a string of pearls, her only ornament. Her full length veil was held in place by a ruffled halo. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Miss Edna Mae Harris as bridesmaid wore a frock of yellow and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and mauve sweetpeas with tapering yellow streamers. The groom was supported by Mr. D. M. Zobel of Raymond.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home in Magrath. The house was decorated in summer flowers, the brides table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom, decorated by her aunt Mrs. Coleman. Covers were laid for 20 guests at the Christensen home. During the reception Mrs. Jay Christensen sang "The Perfect Day."

Receiving with the bridal party the brides mother chose an aqua crepe and the groom's mother was attired in blue crepe gowns. Both wore pink corsages.

For the honeymoon trip spent in Calgary and Banff, the bride chose an apple green suit with full sleeves and a slight bustle on the jacket. She wore a black straw hat and black purse and shoes and her corsage was white carnations.

Credit For Farmers

A REPORT TABLED RECENTLY in the Canadian House of Commons by Finance Minister Abbott gave some very interesting facts regarding the advantages which farmers have taken of the provisions made by the government in 1946 for loans for farm improvements. These loans may be made through chartered banks for the improvement and development of farms, the loans extending over a period of ten years at an interest rate of five per cent. Finance Minister Abbott's report showed that 13,030 Canadian farmers, including more than 10,000 from the Prairie Provinces obtained loans last year and that the money used for this purpose amounted to $9,880,565. It was also pointed out in the report that no bank had made claims on the government to recover losses, showing that the farmers who had borrowed money had met the terms of their agreements.

Loans Used For Many Purposes

In Alberta 4,798 farmers borrowed money to the amount of $3,388,115, while in Saskatchewan 4,075 loans were made, amounting to $3,140,157. Manitoba farmers made 1,928 loans, totalling $1,397,539. Two-thirds of the money borrowed was used to purchase farm implements and farm trucks, the report showed, and fifty thousand acres of new land were broken by the 1,008 farmers who borrowed money for this purpose. Others obtained loans for foundation and breeding stock and there were 303 farmers who borrowed for this reason, their loans totalling $190,937. It was observed that loans for the construction, repair and alteration of farm buildings were also provided, and that it was expected that the demand for them would be large when construction materials become more plentiful.

Credit Needed In Business

Credit is an important factor in any business, and farming is no exception in this regard. Canadian banks have played a very valuable part in the development of farming communities but the legislation enacted in 1946 was aimed at giving assistance to the average farmer who "in the past had not always been able to obtain bank credit for the purpose of adding improvements to his property." The results of the first year in which the measure was in operation show that a great many farmers made use of the loans, and that there were no cases of default on the part of those who borrowed. Farming is one of our largest and most essential industries but farmers have not always received as much encouragement and support as might be desired. Extension of credit is one means of providing for the improvement and development of farms and should be viewed with favour by all sections of the public.

Pigeon Turns Up 1,600 Miles From Home

STRATFORD, Ont.—David Davidson's lost homing pigeon has turned up—1,600 miles from home. The Stratford pigeon fancier learned that the wayward bird, unreported since it left the Davidson loft April 1, had "dropped in" on its former owner, Dick Irvin of Regina. Irvin, who spends his winters coaching Montreal's National Hockey League Canadiens, says he has had birds return to him from as far away as Ottawa. He sold the four-year-old to Davidson in 1944.

One of Whistler's rejected paintings was accepted later by an art gallery when he submitted it upside down.

PRAIRIE CROP PROSPECTS GOOD

OTTAWA. — Prospects are good "for at least an average" crop on the Prairie provinces this year barring development of adverse weather and moisture conditions in the critical period between now and early August, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said in a report covering Prairie conditions.

"Perhaps the most serious hazard the current crop may have to face is the possibility of frost damage," said the report. "The stage of development of nearly all grains is from 10 days to two weeks later than normal and the probability of damage from early frosts is thereby greatly increased."

In Manitoba, growing conditions have been good and crops generally are making "very satisfactory progress." Conditions in southern Saskatchewan are "generally satisfactory," with all crops making good growth while prospects in Alberta continue to be "very favorable."

Sea Fish Believed Extinct Caught Near South Africa

GRAHAMSTOWN, Cape Province. —South African scientists are organizing a hunt to catch a "modern dodo," a fish once believed extinct for the last 50,000,000 years.

First clue that this fish, a coelacanth, still survived, came in 1938 when a trawler brought up a mysterious object five feet long, steel blue in color and weighing 127 pounds.

The fish died three hours after it was landed and one of the fishermen said in 30 years of fishing he had never seen such a "queer looking object—it had arms".

The remains of the fish are in an African museum.

Census Shows Fewer Horses In Manitoba

OTTAWA.—The number of horses in Manitoba is decreasing rapidly in numbers, figures released by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics show. These were the preliminary figures of the 1946 prairie census, and they reported a decline from 301,763 horses on June 1, 1941, to 215,098 last year, a 29 per cent. drop.

Value of Manitoba's farm horses decreased even more rapidly, from $16,377,887 in 1941 to $10,724,450 on June 1 last year, a decrease of one-third.

While the horse population was declining, the cattle population was gaining in number, figures show. The cattle population in Manitoba, June 1, 1946, was 799,633 compared to 705,337 five years earlier, and 747,367 in 1936. The value of cattle showed a much greater increase, being $49,485,625 last year compared with $26,495,164 in 1941 and only $14,238,422 in 1936.

The number of sheep declined to 205,516 from the 1941 total of 246,169 and was slightly below the 1936 total of 207,915. Swine dropped from 503,407 to 308,052 last year, but there will still be more than there were in 1936, when 269,708 were produced.

Total poultry population last year was 17 per cent. higher than in 1941, and 60 per cent. above 1936, due mainly to sharp increases in hens and chickens.

Tooth decay is the most common disease of mankind.

NORTHERN ONTARIO FOREST FIRES—Only promised rain can extinguish forest fires raging in four areas of Northern Ontario, reports said as a shift in the wind temporarily saved one community from which women and children had been evacuated. Clouds of smoke hang over the fires.

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

Shopkeeper (angrily) "What's the idea of throwing those shoes away?"

New Assistant. "They're no good. I've tried them on six customers and they don't fit anyone."

"The best thing for you to do," said the doctor to the man with a nervous complaint, "is to stop thinking about yourself and hurry yourself in your work."

"Good heavens!" cried the patient. "I'm a concrete mixer."

"What's the most effective agency for the redistribution of wealth?"

"The wives and daughters of rich men."

Asked in school to name the ages, young Tommy replied: "The Ice Age, The Stone Age, The Dark Age, and the Short Age."

Landlady: "You'll have to pay your bill or leave!"

Lodger: "Thanks awfully. My last landlady made me do both."

"How did the Smith wedding go off?"

"Fine, until the parson asked the bride if she'd obey her husband."

"What happened then?"

"She replied: 'Do you think I'm crazy?' and the groom who was in a sort of daze, replied, 'I do!'"

The straightforward young woman believed in telling the truth. She married a very sentimental young man.

"My darling," he said, "surely I cannot be worthy of you."

"Oh, of course not," she answered, "but when a girl's been twenty-three for six years, she would be silly to be too particular, wouldn't she?"

A well-known film star, having just completed the ceremony of opening a bazaar, was talking vivaciously to an engrossed circle of reporters when a Cockney kid pushed his way through them with an autograph book in his hand.

"Sorry," snapped the star, "I can't sign my name just yet."

"Oh, never mind," said the kid. "If you can't write, put a cross."

Fitting Station Attendant: "John, your doctor just pulled up with a flat tire."

John: "Swell! Diagnose the trouble as puncture wounds resulting in prolapsus of the perimeter. Prescribe plastic surgery followed by the administration of violent flatulents, and charge him accordingly. That's what he's been doing to me!"

Garage Owner: "Fourteen dollars! I wouldn't pay Michelangelo to paint my garage at that price!"

Painter (impatiently): "Listen, if he does the job for any less, we'll picket the place!"

"Some of you pedestrians walk about as if you'd bought the streets."

"Yes, and some of you motorists drive as if you'd paid for your cars!"

Canada Gives Twenty Million For Relief Of European People

OTTAWA.—Gift of $20,000,000 by Canada for post-UNRRA relief of the needy peoples of Europe was announced by Prime Minister King. Of the $20,000,000, $5,000,000 will be for the international children's relief fund.

Some $8,000,000 will be spent in purchasing Canadian salted and canned fish for distribution in Europe, this serving the extra purpose of supporting fish prices in Canada. Up to 10,000,000 pounds of salted cod and related species, 40,000 barrels of pickled fish (herring and mackerel), 50,000 boxes of bloaters, 900,000 cases of Pacific canned herrings, and 100,000 cases of maritime canned fish, will be purchased for relief needs.

This Fussy Burglar Gets Laundry Done

HOUSTON. — Police seek a burglar who mixes larceny with his laundry.

The man, officers reported, broke into a laundry, stole a few dollars and a clean shirt and left a dirty shirt.

A few nights later he dropped into another laundry, left the first shirt (now dirty), and walked out with a clean one.

Plane Carriers Used To Haul Grain To U.K.

MONTREAL.—Small aircraft carriers which served on Atlantic convoy duty during World War II, are carrying Canadian grain to Britain.

Operated by the British ministry of food, five of the British built baby flattops have been put on the grain run to haul wheat from Montreal and Halifax to London and Liverpool.

The carriers are uneconomical, inefficient grain ships, a British food ministry spokesman said here, but they must be used because of the shortage of ships. Loading wheat into the craft takes 25 per cent. longer than into a standard grain carrier, although they carry only 200,000 bushels compared with a regular carrier's cargo of 336,000 to 360,000 bushels.

Slight Drop Shown In United States Cost Of Living

WASHINGTON.—Retail prices on essential cost-of-living items dropped slightly between mid-April and mid-May, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports on the basis of preliminary estimates.

The consumers' price index for May 15 is estimated at slightly below 156—the April 15 level—figuring the 1935-1939 period as 100. Retail prices were a little more than 18 per cent. higher than a year ago and 58 per cent. above the August, 1939, level.

HISTORY OF RAYMOND

By ELIZABETH KING

Due to editorial oversight the name of some of the participants in the First Ward M.I.A. float, the description of which was contained in last week's issue were left out. The following is a correction.—Ed.

The Queen Bee on the float was Marilyn Taylor, King Scouts were represented by Douglas and Gerald Litchfield. The cute little attendants were Pam Shaw and Robin McPhee and Richard Stone. Honorary bees were Marilyn Taylor, Vivian Fawns, Shirley Allen, Kay and Barbara Stone, Joanne Brandley, NaDean McBride and Patsy Mitchell.

We have in our possession this week a copy of the RAYMOND CHRONICLE, dated July 20, 1904. I think a few moments taken to browse through it would be fun.

On the front page is an advertisement of the program on the July 24 celebration giving the order of events and the sports program. The celebration was listed to start at 6:30 a.m. with flag raising and a salute of 24 guns. The parade began at 9 a.m. with a service at 10 in the meeting house. The afternoon was given to sports and such games as: Catch the Greased Pig with the pig as the prize; foot races for everyone including fat men and fat women, wrestling, shot put, bicycle races, and every other conceivable type of racing and sports. The day ended with a ball game between the Benedicts and the Bachelors.

Of course there was a dance in the evening.

Still on the front page we notice an article about baseball. Raymond was badly beaten by the Lethbridge Miners 19 to 1. The Miners imported a ball team from across the line in spite of the fact that a residential ruling of seven miles was made for all players. In spite of the shellacking Raymond still maintained her place at the top of the league.

Also interesting to note was the fact that a new mill rate had been struck of 27 mills less ten percent for prompt payment. The estimates when first presented caused a gasp

(so the paper says) for the total demanded a mill rate of 40 mills. When the sifting and cutting was finished the result was a rate of 27 mills. Another little article goes like this: "Just this side of Spring Coulee are camped about fifty Raymonds who, under the direction of P.J. Christensen are widening the gauge on the St. Mary's R. line. In the two weeks this gang have been on the work some four miles of the roadbed has been converted from a turkey-track to a wide gauge, and from reports received, work will last about a fortnight longer.

Here is another article that shows the pride and feelings of the public spirited citizens. "Within a short time Raymond will be visited by a large number of people from the home state, the friends and relatives of the people here, to the number of some hundred having signified their intention of taking part in the Salt Lake excursion due here early in August.

This being the case, it is due the town and our own self-respect that we make as good an appearance as possible. The town council can see that our streets are tidied up, the refuse raked from the irrigation troughs and the one on Broadway straight tened up. They can also do a little preliminary grading on the worst parts of the road. Lot-owners can tidy up their yard, both front and back, and, if they have time, might improve the general appearance of things by pulling in the slack on their wire fences some of which are looking particularly ragged.

If everyone would do some cleaning up the effect on our visitors could not but be favorable and would be beneficial in many other ways.

The absence of a sidewalk on Broadway and all the little ditches cut across the sidewalk allowances will doubtless impress our visitors also, although not so favorably. If the coming of friends and strangers in a huge body will only cause our people to see these things as others are sure to see them, some good will have been accomplished.

The RAYMOND CHRONICLE was published with Saunders and Matheson as publishers and R. O. Matheson, Editor.

Next week will be July 24 and the History of Raymond will give you some of the highlights then and now. (To be continued next week)

Fix Rate To Curb Speed on Highways

Action has been taken by the provincial government to reduce the rate of speed on highways and reduce accidents according to officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

Hitherto, there was no established maximum rate of speed, it being understood that it was to be a reasonable rate having regard to the prevailing circumstances and conditions. This meant that a car could be driven at a faster rate at certain times

Jean Cruchet, young Toronto actress who is well known in Canadian dramatic circles for her radio and stage performances. A familiar voice on C.B.C. drama programs, Miss Cruchet has also been heard frequently in commercial broadcasts. She is active in two Toronto theatrical companies: The New Play Society and the Village Players.

on the highway than at other times, depending upon the traffic and other factors.

Now the government has established a maximum rate of 50 miles per hour for passenger cars and buses and all other such vehicles.

For motor trucks the maximum rate is 40 miles per hour. With these specified speed maximums in effect as from July 1, the provincial authorities believe that the accident toll in the province resulting from reckless driving will see a marked decrease and that more general observance of safe driving measures will be brought about.

Scotsmen Smile As American Sailors Occupy Edinburgh

EDINBURGH, Scotland—Scotsmen submitted good naturedly to an occupation of Edinburgh by American sailors recently. Ashore from United States warships anchored in the Firth of Forth, the sailors caused traffic jams in famed Princess St. and tramped in sight-seeing crowds through the castles of Old Scottish kings.

The senior officers of the visiting vessels, headed by the battleships Wisconsin and New Jersey, were guests of the lord provost at a luncheon in the city chambers.

The lord provost, John Falconer, called it a historic occasion, and said Scotland gladly acknowledged that she owed much to the United States navy "for invaluable service in our time of need." Replying, Adm. Richard L. Conolly, commander of United States naval forces in Europe and the Mediterranean, said every American sailor felt at home in Scotland.

There never did, and never will exist anything permanently noble and excellent in the character which is a stranger to the exercise of resolute self-denial.—Sir Walter Scott.

HELPFUL ADVICE GIVEN IN "BOOK OF WISDOM" DISTRIBUTED TO ESKIMOS

OTTAWA. — How to keep your igloo clean, what to do when baby yowls and when to go to a doctor—these are some of the subjects outlined for Eskimo in a "Book of Wisdom" released by the Northwest Territories Bureau of the Mines and Resources Department.

The publication, prepared by officials of the bureau and medical experts from the National Health and Welfare department, will be distributed to Eskimo families this year by the Eastern Arctic Patrol.

Here is a chapter on family allowances:

"The King is helping all the children in his lands. He is giving his aid to the Eskimo children also and has instructed his servants, the police, to proceed in this way. All parents and foster parents must register with the police all children up to 16 years old.

"Now the King is giving a monthly allowance to each child under 16 years old. But this is to be controlled and only when in real need must an Eskimo mother or father ask to draw this allowance to help their children. If you have a good year of hunting and trapping you will not need the allowance that year and it will be saved for you and issued only when there is a dire need for it. When you do not use all the allowance it will be saved for the child who will receive it at the age of 16 years."

Other sections deal with how to keep an igloo clean, tuberculosis, game conservation, rifle care, germs, injuries and prenatal preparations.

PICNIC PLOTTING—A picnic is a state of mind. You can have a picnic by a lake or on a hillside or in a city park or even in your own apartment on a Saturday night. A picnic is an informal meal where the mood is gay, and the food is simple but good. Whether your next picnic is inside or outside and whether your picnicers are friends or just family, let the food you serve help to create atmosphere with a holiday dash. Serve something different—something exciting—something good. Suggest a carnival midway with frankfurters or beefburgers, but dress simple food up for a party this time. Here are two recipes—one for Branburgers and one for a Macaroni Salad bowl—either of which can be the main dish at your next picnic.

Frankfurter And Macaroni Salad Bowl

$\frac{3}{4}$ cup raw macaroni in $\frac{1}{2}$ pieces $\frac{1}{4}$ cup diced celery
4 cups boiling water $\frac{1}{2}$ cup coarsely diced cucumber
4 teaspoons salt 1 tablespoon silvered green pepper
4 frankfurters ($\frac{1}{2}$ lb.) 1 cup coarsely diced tomatoes
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup well-seasoned French dressing $\frac{1}{4}$ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
2 tablespoons minced onion Speck pepper
2 teaspoons lemon juice $\frac{1}{2}$ head romaine, shredded
Cook macaroni tender in the boiling water, to which 3 teaspoons salt have been added. Five minutes before macaroni is done, add frankfurters; cook 5 minutes longer. Then drain. Remove frankfurters, and rinse macaroni in boiling water. Place in a bowl with frankfurters, which have been cut in halves, lengthwise and crosswise, then in 1" pieces. Add French dressing, onion and lemon juice and chill. Just before serving, toss with 1 teaspoon salt and remaining ingredients. Serves 4.

Branburgers

1 egg 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt $\frac{1}{4}$ cups milk
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon pepper 1 cup All-Bran
2 tablespoons minced onion 1 pound ground beef
10 slices bacon
Beat egg, add salt, pepper, onion, parsley, milk and All-Bran. Let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Add beef and mix thoroughly. Cut slices of bacon lengthwise into two strips. Arrange two strips bacon cross-wise on waxed paper. Mold generous tablespoon of meat mixture into patty and place on bacon intersection. Bring strips together on top of patty, skewering with toothpick. Bake in hot oven (450 deg. F.) about 30 minutes or broil about 20 minutes. Remove Branburgers from pan. Add some milk and seasonings to drippings. Thicken slightly to make gravy.
Yield: 5 servings, 2 Branburgers each.

MY WEEK

by R. J. Deachman

I haven't scattered any "Oscars" lately though it is the easiest thing in the world for me to do. They cost nothing. I simply comment on some good deed done and remark in quiet tone: "He gets my 'Oscar' this week."

Usually these have been bestowed upon people in the ordinary walks of life. The big chaps can get their own Oscars. This week, however, there was a little item in the "Free Press", Winnipeg, done up in a style. It was called "The Customer is Right."

What it said in essence was this: Suppose there is only one store in town which has shirts to sell. This store has a deal with one favored customer, the price of the best shirt to him is $1.55. Any other person who goes into that store must pay $2.50 or $3.00 for it.

What happens to you when you pay the $2.50 or $3.00? Your gorge rises. You bet your life it does. You are angry down to your toes.

That's just the way Canada is treating other people in regard to the sale of wheat. It sells to the chosen customer at $1.55 a bushel, but the outside nations, those which have no agreement must pay from $2.50 to $3.00. There isn't a doubt of it, they feel just like you would feel with the merchant who held you up in the price of shirts. The open market picks no favorites. It treats all alike. It will never do for Canada to discriminate in favor of one customer and against all the rest.

There is another question which puzzles me. The open market for wheat is approximately $2.50 a bushel. The farmer now receives $1.55 a bushel. Lake Ports, The Canada Wheat Board sells wheat abroad at $2.50 to countries outside of Great Britain. The farmer gets the benefit from that increased price but the Government sells to the millers at a price at 77% per bushel and the people pay taxes to make up the difference between the 77% and the $1.55.

That is the people of Canada, including the farmers, are taxed to keep down the price of flour so that the millers are not compelled, as otherwise they would be, to raise the price of bread. In other words the farmers are taxed to provide cheap bread for city workers who in turn at times earn much more than farmers. While city at the same time, if permitted to sell this wheat in the open market the farmer would get almost $1.00 for it.

The farmers accept this because they think that by taking a low price now they will get a higher price later on, the other countries which get the higher price now, will also get it then.

What strange views we have. Rarely do we look at questions in their broader aspects. The farmers passed through tough years in the thirties. Then came the long discussion of marketing problems. There is a tendency to blame the government now for the low price of wheat but find me the man, who, acting for the Government of Canada, in a bulk sale of Canadian wheat can, over the long period of years, get a higher price than the open market can provide.

THE RECORDER

New Business Is Launched Here

Featuring such signs as: "Are you dry?" and "Are you hot and thirsty?" etc., a new business has sprung up in Raymond. The shortage of pop and the initiative of the younger generation or "small fry" in the south part of town has caused lemonade stands to spring up on street corners in the residential area.

The youngsters are quite serious in their attempt to alleviate the thirst and hot weather with the sale of the home made drinks.

Armed with a pitcher of the thirst quencher, one group, more progressive than the other, made the rounds knocking on doors wondering if you cared for a drink of lemonade.

Prevailing prices are five cents a volume of business—we wonder if glass, competition is keen and they don't drink more than they sell.

LOCAL TALENT FEATURE OF RECITAL HERE

A large crowd enjoyed the very fine recital given Sunday night after church by the Misses Kathleen Holmes, dramatic soprano, and Katherine Allen, concert pianist.

Both these young ladies have been away studying. Miss Allen in Calgary and Miss Holmes in Vancouver.

The performance given by the two young ladies showed the reward of many hours of hard labor.

Showing her ability as a concert pianist Miss Allen played all her numbers without music. She also accompanied Miss Holmes at the piano.

Miss Holmes sang ten numbers on the program demonstrating unusual ability in the rendition of her varied group of songs.

Proceeds from the concert were turned to the organ fund of the First Ward Chapel.

FOR THE GO-HEAD FARMER

He wanted to pay the Bank

A BONUS!

June 20th—John J. Veroba of Lampman, Sask., applied to the Bank of Montreal for a loan of $2,000 to purchase a threshing combine. His proposition was sound . . . and the loan was made.

John Veroba's new machine was delivered on June 25th. Ten days later, with his own crops still four weeks from harvesting, he set out for Sharon Springs, Kansas. With his new combine he worked for the farmers there and in the neighbouring communities for one month to the day.

In the meantime his own crops were ripening. Early in August he turned northward to Lampman, and on his arrival, August 11th, immediately remitted to us the full $2,000 he had borrowed. His work had given him back the entire purchase price of his combine!

The total interest charge was $12.60. So pleased was this customer to possess his own combine free of all debt, and to commence his own harvesting with a happy and easy mind, that he wished to pay the Bank of Montreal a bonus to mark his appreciation.

The Bank, of course, declined the bonus, but is gladly accepting the expression of John Veroba's thanks in the form of his permission to tell his story in this advertisement.

This case is typical of the assistance which the Bank of Montreal is extending to go-ahead farmers and demonstrates how it makes true its promise: "When you ask for a loan at the B of M, you do not ask a favour."

If you need money, see your nearest B of M manager today. Ask for a copy of our farm loan folder: "Quiz for a Go-Ahead Farmer."

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Sandra's Sanatorium

By A. A. O. GILMOUR

SANDRA MARLOW stood at the kitchen door and gazed in silent horror.

Prince was eating the shrimp!

The afternoon had gone badly enough. The Woman's Club, duly assembled at Dr. Dick Marlow's brick cottage, was lukewarm; particularly when she tried—timidly—to discuss Granville's need—a modern sanatorium.

Mrs. Brunet-Wayne put ring covered fingers on Sandra's slender arm. "We're so submerged in other things," she said, half kindly, half impatiently.

Most of the women followed her cue. Sandra subsided in helpless frustration and hoped.

Perhaps with refreshments—hard come by in these days of shortages—they'd be relaxed enough to listen—to consider; perhaps to plan how funds could be raised.

A vitalized sanatorium for Granville! Ever since Dick had come home to practice he had been striving for this dream. She wanted so desperately to help him.

She rushed forward. Prince scurried for shelter beneath the table. Under matted Alredie tangles his brown eyes were forlorn. "Prince!" She shook her head. "How could you? After all these years. After all my training. How could you?"

She snapped her fingers. The dog buried his nose between his paws and moaned penance. She felt a quick glow of pride at his instant obedience to her signal. But the full impact of loss struck when she looked about her spotless kitchen. There was just nothing to substitute. And without shrimp, her luncheon would be a flat failure.

She looked at the platter again. Prince had gone in for the delicate approach. One giant shrimp tail had curled over the platter's edge. He'd closed his teeth on that. The rest of the platter was untouched.

She'd be sensible, she decided. Dick might frown if he knew, but he was in his downtown office. A conversational buzz droned on in the living room.

Sandra forced herself to an engaging smile—and bore the heaped platter toward them.

When the shrimp pile had dwindled to one or two morsels—and the celery hearts—and the olives disappeared; and when coffee steamed fragrantly in translucent Spode cups Mrs. Brunet-Wayne leaned toward her. "I'm sorry, child," she said kindly, "but we have so many things to do. And we do have a hospital at Lumberton—only thirty miles away."

Mrs. Brunet-Wayne sipped coffee gracefully. "Next year, perhaps—besides, Dr. Marlow is still so young..."

Sandra nodded, her face expressionless. Next year perhaps—and all the time it would take the women to get through working on their husbands... She snapped her fingers twice for emphasis, "but, of course, Mrs. Brunet-Wayne!" Before Granville's social leader, Sandra's smile was submissive.

She glanced about her, rose, and made her way to the kitchen. She stopped at the door. Her fingers trembled, grasping at the jamb for support. Her chest constricted in a low, shuddering moan.

When she returned to face the Woman's Club her green eyes were wide—horror stricken in a pale face. "Sandra!" Mrs. Brunet-Wayne's tone was shrill. "What's the matter?"

Sandra stared. "It's Prince!" her voice was strangled. "I-I fed him some shrimp—before—" Her eyes closed. She gestured weakly toward the kitchen. "Look!"

Mrs. Brunet-Wayne sailed past her in full panoply. At the door she came to a full stop.

Prince was a shapeless blob on bright linoleum; his legs stiffly outstretched. His eyes were half shut. His tongue had slipped from his lax jaws. It curved, wetly limp, to the floor.

Mrs. Brunet-Wayne uttered one word. She whispered it with a hiss of quickly drawn breath—"Ptoimaine!" Granville's social leader swayed like a staggering sloop.

Sandra dashed for the telephone. While she got her husband's number she issued swift orders. "Warm water. The mustard's in the cupboard, second shelf."

No one answered. The club was numb with sudden shock.

Finally she heard the doctor's quick voice. "Hurry," she told him urgently, "the shrimp!"

"Eh?"

"The shrimp! Prince ate some before I served it to the club. He's—he's stretched out on the floor." Richard Marlow's voice was incisive. "I'll be right out."

Sandra looked about the room. Women were looking at each other—pale, frightened. No one looked in the kitchen. The dog was so well—so still. She hung up, went to the kitchen, gathered the inert dog in her arms and carried him to the back yard.

They waited. No one spoke. Mrs. Brunet-Wayne moaned faintly. Silence fell on the room. Sandra came back, her hand at her waist. She closed her eyes and said, "O—oh!"

Mrs. Brunet-Wayne sobbed hysterically. "If we could only do something. Anything!"

They heard the whine then. Prince, ears cocked, eyes bright, scratched energetically at the kitchen door.

"Why—why," Mrs. Brunet-Wayne gasped, "he's alive!"

Sandra flew to open the door for him. While she put her arms around the ecstatically wiggling Alredie a relieved sigh burst from the entire group.

Mrs. Brunet-Wayne rose to the occasion. "Isn't it strange," she murmured, "how we jump to conclusions. All of us had eaten shrimp. And Sandra had fed some to the dog. Then she saw the dog—" she paused for emphasis—"dead!"

Sandra recovered her composure. "And we all thought we were sick."

Mrs. Brunet-Wayne was not to be stopped. "Suppose we had been—with no facilities for treatment..." She considered this a long moment. "Child," she said sternly, "you should have pressed the sanatorium project more forcefully. I shall handle it myself from now on... Personally!"

The Woman's Club was adjourned when Dr. Marlow arrived. Sandra gave him a brief explanation. Prince lay worshipfully at her feet. "And so," she finished, "with the Woman's Club back of it, darling, I think Granville's going to get a sanatorium." She snapped her fingers, twice.

Obediently, Prince rolled—a shapeless blob. His legs were stiffly outstretched; his eyes half closed. Limply wet, his tongue slid from relaxed jaws to the floor.

Dickens' Church Celebrate Anniversary

CHATHAM, Kent. — The church Charles Dickens attended as a boy, Chatham Parish Church, is celebrating its 1,000th anniversary this year. Anniversary celebrations will be attended by Sir Stafford Cripps and Dame Sybil Thornley. Sir Stafford will address a gathering of employers and trade unionists; Dame Sybil will talk to parishioners connected with entertainment.

Chatham Parish Church has been rebuilt three times, and little remains of the original Saxon foundations.

"Just before the French Revolution the church was badly burned," said the rector, Rev. J. McCulloch. "The one that Dickens used gave place at the end of the 19th century to the present building."

Yemen, Arabia, is the birthplace of cultivated coffee. The inland highlands have produced coffee since Mahomet's time.

AWARDED A BURSARY—Chrmae Caza, 21, of 309 Ninth Street, Saskatoon, has been awarded a bursary by the Saskatchewan Department of Public Health enabling her to do postgraduate study in mental hospital dietetics. Jean Oddie, provincial nutritionist, announced recently. The bursary is valued at $300 and travelling expenses. Miss Caza, who graduated from the University of Saskatchewan in household science this year, will leave immediately for study at the Colorado State Hospital, Pueblo, Colo., to begin a 12-month course. The Colorado institution is the only one on this continent offering such a course, Miss Oddie explained. Miss Caza, who won a university scholarship last year, was one of five applicants. The qualifications of all applicants were impressive, Miss Oddie said.

These U.S. Tourists Very Optimistic—Want Barrel Of Fish

SARNIA, Ont.—Canadian customs officials here have seen United States tourists entering Canada with skis, fur coats and snowshoes in July. Recently they were edified by another strange sight when an American car containing two U.S. Army vets and a wooden barrel drove up. "Where can we catch a barrel of fish?" asked the vets. They were waved on harrel and all.

High Mountain Peaks In Canada

The St. Catharines Standard says: News from Nome is that an expedition of the New England Museum of Natural History, led by Bradford Washburn, has successfully sealed 20,300-foot Mount McKinley, North America's highest peak. As a matter of fact, McKinley, rising from an elevation of only 2,000 feet, is from its base to the top not only North America's but the world's highest. Canada, though, has nothing to be ashamed of when it comes to lofty altitudes. Highest in Canada are Mount Logan (19,850 feet), and St. Elias (18,008) both in the Yukon and both on or near the Alaskan boundary. Fairweather (15,287) is on the British Columbia-Alaska line. 2732

Park Authorities Warn Motorists Against Feeding "Tame" Bears

—Result... Bullet For Bruin

CALGARY. — On roadsides, on camp grounds, at points of scenic interest where motorists pause, on Banff's nuisance ground, and even in the town of Banff, black bears rate high as wild-life attractions. Merely watching or photographing them involves practically no risk for the watchers or photographers; feeding them is the trouble-starter. The claim that the one who first feeds a black bear signs its death warrant is not founded. In a high percentage of cases the hand-fed, hand-tamed black bear dies either by a game-warden's bullet, fired to stop its depredations, or dies in hibernation through not having prepared naturally for its winter sleep.

The sign-warnings "Do Not Feed The Bears" are not "fun-spoilers" posted by park authorities; those authorities know that a careless move on the part of the "feeder" can change an apparently docile bear into some hundreds of pounds of slashing fury.

There was an instance of that recently at Banff.

Mrs. M. Meier of San Francisco escaped with little more harm than head-cuts when she was struck and knocked down on the highway there by a large black bear.

The incident occurred on the west highway in the vicinity of Sawback, about eight miles from Banff. Mr. Meier was feeding bread to the animal, and Mrs. Meier, attempting to photograph it, moved behind the bear. This apparently alarmed it, for it turned swiftly and swept her to the ground.

There was another instance of a similar kind at Lake Louise a few years ago. One Saturday a Lake Louise resident invited a weekly visitor to see his "tame" bear; the bear came hesitatingly when called, then turned suddenly and bolted for the bush, chased by a cat. The next Saturday the bear was practically living on the premises, eating from the hand of anyone who offered it a tidbit. The third Saturday it "went bad". While feeding the animal the "tamer" paused and turned as someone called to him, and the next moment wicked claws slashed his face. Result... a bullet for bruin.

Newfoundland Resents U.S. Defense Bases

OTTAWA. — F. Gordon Bradley, chairman of the Newfoundland national convention, said that the people of that colony "resented" the big United States military bases which are in Newfoundland on 99-year leases.

The Newfoundland delegation, which meets a committee of the cabinet, came to Ottawa to explore the possibility of Newfoundland coming into confederation as a tenth province.

Mr. Bradley said that the 99-year leases given to the United States amounted to "expropriation" of Newfoundland territory, for as long as the leases run Newfoundland has given up all sovereignty over the territory now occupied by United States forces.

WAITS FOR STOWAWAY—Minnie Harnish of Halifax says she is going to wait for David Noyes, 20-year-old ex-marine, now held at Ellis Island, New York, as a stowaway, and since his return to Britain has tried five times to stow away on ships bound for Canada.

Good Prospects For More Sugar

Finance Minister Abbott announced in the Commons an increase of three or four pounds will be allowed in the individual sugar ration before the end of this year but at the same time warned that the ration itself would have to remain in effect for some time to come.

He said two additional ration coupons will be declared valid in August and one or two late in November.

At the same time, the industrial ration will be advanced by 10 points in each industrial category, putting the basic industrial quota at 90 per cent. of 1941 usage.

As for the termination of rationing, Mr. Abbott said:

"Our conclusion is that it is in the general interest, and particularly in the interest of householders and small businesses, that sugar rationing should be retained in full force at least until the 1948 supply prospects are clear, but at the same time to increase the rate of ration as rapidly as circumstances permit."

2. Mr. Roeg, as he looks to the office force. ("What's biting old Simon Legree," they want to know. "Jumpy as a trout!")

3. Mr. Roeg, as he thinks he looks. ("Gotta slow down," he mutters, "guess I've been hustling too much. Better drop in and see the Doc.")

4. Mr. Roeg as he looks to the doctor. ("While plenty of folks can drink tea and coffee with no ill effects," the doctor says, "you're not one of them. Switch to Postum! It contains no caffeine or stimulants of any kind.")

5. Mr. Roeg as he looks to his wife that night. ("Darling, you've lost your job," she exclaims. "Worse," he replies. "Doc says I gotta cut out tea and coffee.")

6. Mr. Roeg as he looks after his first good swallow of Postum. ("Well, well!" he says to his wife. "I'm glad that Doc put me on Postum. It's a grand-tasting, he-man's drink, with a fine flavor all its own.")
